

Your Personal Data at Aston Park Tennis Club

We have produced a Privacy Policy:

<https://clubspark.lta.org.uk/astonparklta/ClubPolicies> to explain how we collect, store and handle your personal data.

Why we collect your data

We want you to get the most out of your tennis membership at Aston Park. For example, the data we hold about you enables us to contact you with details of access codes and news about matches, competitions, court restrictions and any upcoming events.

How we collect your data

We do this principally when you sign up as a member and subsequently with the updates provided when you annually renew your membership. We take appropriate steps to protect your data.

When we'll share your data

Principally we don't share your data with anyone. However, if as part of your membership renewal form you gave permission for contact by our coaching providers, we will share your name and email address with them so they can make you aware of the relevant coaching sessions. Creative Tennis, the current providers, has signed a document to say they too will take the necessary steps to protect your data.

Know your rights

You have rights regarding your personal data, including requesting to see what data we hold, and any updates to your information. You may also at any time ask us to delete any data we hold about you.
