About Me

Emre started off his sports journey as a junior professional swimmer in Turkiye. After acquiring his engineering degree in the UK, he moved to London to pursue a career. He started playing tennis in 2019 while working in engineering-related industries. Later in 2024, decided to become a full-time tennis coach due to his ability to display on court, passion for the sport, and knowledge of the game.

He is keen to deliver tennis coaching to people of all ages and levels who seek to improve their tennis. He can speak fluent English and Turkish.
