

Neil Rossiter

LTA Accredited Level 2 Coaching Assistant

I first started playing wheelchair tennis three years ago and loved it from day one. After the first year, I wanted to make other people with disabilities feel the way I do when I play. That's to say you feel like you have no disability and feel no pain, and finally feel a valid part of society once again.

You have to accept everyone plays differently, and you have to work out ways of getting them to achieve the desired results.

Favourite tennis shot: ...

Favourite tennis player: Roger Federer

Favourite film: Point Break

Three dinner guests: Valentino Rossi, Lewis Hamilton, Bjorn Borg

